ECHO BY EYEMAGINATIONS

ECHO is a single, cloud based platform that allows you to communicate and engage with your patients, wherever they are thinking about their health: before an appointment, in the waiting area, the consulting room or after the appointment, setting your practice apart from the competition.

We call these areas patient touch points and with ECHO you can communicate across all the touch points, by sending visual presentations from one platform, which is flexible enough to work from any PC, tablet or Smartphone. ECHO integrates with emails, twitter, facebook and other leading media.
